

JACOB GOSSNER

PhD Student in Human Development and Family Studies, USU and Associate Marriage and Family Therapist

Jacob Gossner is a PhD student in Human Development and Family Studies at Utah State University. His research focuses on online, self-guided interventions for family caregivers for people with dementia. His research assistantship to conduct his dissertation study on this topic is funded by the ADRC. Jacob is an Associate Marriage and Family Therapist and enjoys the interplay between research and clinical work. He and his wife are the parents of four little boys.