

| Current list of courses | | | | | | |
|-------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|-----------------|----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Course # | Title | Credits | USU Designation | Offered | Additional information | Description of Course |
| BIOL 3100 | Bioethics | 3 | CI | Spring | | Discussion of current controversial ethical issues in medicine, animal rights, and environmental conservation. |
| FCHD 3350 | Family Finance | 3 | DSS | Fall, Spring, Summer | Online | Overview of financial topics including financial goals, record keeping, budgeting, saving, insurance, taxes, use of credit, credit reports, mortgages, investments, retirement, fraud and financial planning. |
| FCHD 5550 | Short Study Abroad: Health and Social Services in Older Adults in Sweden | 3 | | May (odd years) | | Sweden has one of the most advanced old age health and social programs in the world. Students will attend lectures provided by USU faculty, faculty from the Institute for Gerontology at the University of Jonkoping, and researchers and policy makers in Stockholm. Morning lectures are followed by site visits to state of the art old-age care facilities in Sweden, and planned sight seeing opportunities are included. |
| HEP 3600 | Introduction to Community Health | 3 | CI | Fall | Online | Introduction to agencies, facilities, and programs playing a role in protection and promotion of health in the community. Special emphasis on competencies necessary for the health educator to function in a variety of community settings. |
| HEP 5100 | Cultural and Complementary Medicine | 3 | CI | Arranged | | Provides in-depth view into health beliefs, traditions, and practices of various cultures and of the major minority groups in the U.S. Emphasizes ancient, eastern, and native health practices collectively known as complementary medicine and healing modalities. |
| NDFS 2020 | Nutrition through the Life Cycle | 3 | | Spring | Prereq: NDFS 1020 | Application of nutrition principles to the human life cycle: nutrient functions, needs, sources, and alterations during pregnancy, lactation, growth, development, maturation, and aging. |
| NDFS 4450 | Medical Nutrition Lab | 1 | | Fall | Supplement to NDFS 4550 | Explores application of nutrition care process to medical case studies. |
| NDFS 4550 | Nutrition Assessment/Clinical Nutrition I | 2 | | Fall | *Restricted to NDFS majors only; Prereq: CHEM 3700 | Introduction to the profession of dietetics, assessment of nutrition status, and nutrition care planning. Pathophysiology of disease states and applied medical nutrition therapy. |
| NDFS 5200 | Nutritional Epidemiology | 2 | | Fall | Prereq: NDFS 1020 and STAT 1040 or higher | Introduction to epidemiologic methods and their application to the study of nutrition, human health, and disease. Useful for students with career interests in nutrition, food sciences, dietetics, human health sciences, veterinary sciences, biology, public health, anthropology, social work, and public policy. |
| PPF 5070 | Retirement Planning | 3 | | Spring | | Concepts and principles of retirement planning, including retirement and benefit plans, deferred compensation, and investments. |
| PPF 5080 | Estate Planning | 3 | | Spring | | Concepts and principles of estate planning for individuals, including goal identification, data gathering, forms of property ownership, documents, probate, and transfer taxes. |
| PHIL 1120 | Social Ethics | 3 | BHU | Fall | | Examination of principles and arguments underlying current debate in American law and politics. Topics may include abortion, euthanasia, capital punishment, discrimination and affirmative action, sexual harassment, freedom of expression, welfare, and duties to help the poor in other nations. |
| PHIL 3500 | Medical Ethics | 3 | | Fall | | Key issues in medicine, including: consent, competency, confidentiality, euthanasia, abortion, and the justification of health care. |
| PUBH 3120 | Family and Community Health | 3 | | Spring | | Focuses on health aspects of various population groups within the community. Particular emphasis placed on guidelines for optimal family health. |
| REH 1010/SPED | Disability and Society | 3 | BSS | Fall, Spring | Online | Discussion of definitions and types of disabilities, ethical issues, society's prejudice and discrimination against people with disabilities, and the individual's adjustment to the disability experience. Disability as a natural part of life. |
| SOC 3200 | Population and Society | 3 | DSS | Fall, Spring | Online | Examination of interrelationships between population change and social structure in national and international context. Examines contributions of fertility, mortality, and migration to population characteristics, particularly sex, age, and ethnic composition. Stresses demographic data and analysis. |
| SOC 3330 | Medical Sociology | 3 | | Fall | | In-depth analysis of major contributions of sociology to field of medicine. |
| SOC 5460/6460 | Sociology of Health | 3 | | Spring, Even years | | Examination of social and cultural factors influencing health. Analysis of health behaviors as consequences of variety of diverse personal and social processes. |
| SW 3550 | Social Gerontology | 3 | | Spring | Prereq: SW 1010 | Overview of field of aging and its connection to the practice of social work. |
| SW 3750 | Medical Social Services | 3 | | - | Prereq: SW 1010, SW 2100, SW 2400 | Introduction to role of social worker in health settings. Emphasizes definition of health and disease, patient rights, and consumer participation. Examination of basic health programs, major trends in health planning, and alternate models of health delivery. |
| SW 4900 | Special Topics (if related to Aging) | 3 | | - | Prereq: SW 1010, SW 2100, SW 2400 and permission from instructor | Advanced seminar, designed as a forum for students from varied social science disciplines. Seminars may include issues involved in social work values and ethics, diversity, promotion of social and economic justice, and/or populations-at-risk. |

| Online-only Courses | | | | | | |
|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|---|-----|----------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| COMD 3350 | Introduction to Multiple Disabilities | 3 | | Fall, Spring, Summer | Online Only | Presents introductory information about various disabilities, including those associated with sensory losses. Covers neurological issues related to brain development and learning. Addresses communication issues and strategies for working with individuals having multiple disabilities and sensory loss. |
| HEP 3200 | Consumer Health | 3 | | Fall, Summer | Online only | Focuses on helping students become discriminating consumers of health information, health products, and health services. |
| POLS 3810 | Introduction to Public Policy | 3 | DSS | Fall | Online only | Examines different approaches to the study of public policy and different value dimensions in the design of policies. |
| PSY 3110 | Health Psychology | 3 | | Fall, Spring | Online and Interactive Broadcast only; Prereq: PSY 1010 | Introduction to "biopsychosocial model" of health and well-being. Focuses on reciprocal interactions among biological, psychological, and social factors in human functioning and disease. Explores cultural approaches to health, illness, and treatment. |
| SOC 3750 | Sociology of Aging | 3 | | Fall, Spring | Online only | Examination of social context in which aging occurs, the social implications of aging, and attendant social policy issues. Considers both individual and societal aging, using an historical and global approach. |