

Working with your Academic Advisor

Elizabeth Fauth

11/01/2021

At USU we have people specifically designated to answer undergraduate students' questions about courses, programs, graduation requirements, majors, minors, and more. If these individuals don't know the answer to your questions, they will connect you to the person or office at USU that can help.

They are the ultimate "information connectors".

In the department of Human Development and Family studies, we have Laura Holley for Logan and distance campus students, and Dr. Sarah Tulane for HDFS online students.

Laura's official role is Academic Advisor. Sarah is a Clinical Associate Professor, and the Online Coordinator.

Listen to Sarah discuss the role of advising and how to approach meeting with your academic advisor on the podcast Online with USU \(Season 1, Episode 9\).