USU M.Ed. Program SCHOOL COUNSELING

Utah State's Department of Psychology homes a master's degree (M.Ed.) program for School Counseling that is nationally accredited by the Association for Advancing Quality in Educator Preparation (AAQEP). This program is designed to prepare students for professional licensure in school counseling and job opportunities in K-12 school counseling positions. Students are trained in subjects including behavioral and educational assessment and intervention, ethical and professional standards, individual, group, and classroom counseling interventions, and college and career readiness. The School Counseling Program offers four study tracks: the Jumpstart Undergraduate Track (2 years, USU undergraduates only), Summer-Start Fast Track (2 years), the Fall-Start Standard Track (3 years), and the Spring-Start Standard Track (2.5 years). Visit cehs.usu.edu/psychology/masters/ for track details.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

Standard Track / Fall Start - April 1
Standard Track / Spring Start - October 1
Fast Track / Summer Start - February 1

Virtual Open Houses

Please join us the first Wednesday of the month, from 4-4:30 pm MST for a virtual informational open house!

We invite prospective students to come learn more about our USU M.Ed. in School Counseling Program. These open houses provide a great opportunity to learn more about the school counseling profession, as well as gain an understanding of USU School Counseling Program specifics. We'll discuss what to expect throughout the program, in addition to covering program delivery, cost, and financial aid questions.

Our program coordinator will also walk you through application requirements and next steps if you are ready to apply.
